

WhyDRS.org

If you hold stock with a broker or retirement fund
you DO NOT legally own your shares.

It's known as "street name registration" and it denies you critical property rights over your investments.

If this describes your holdings, your family wealth is in a high risk position.

You wouldn't leave the bank on the deed to your house after paying off the mortgage.

Why give brokers control of the stocks you paid for?

The DRS - Direct Registration System - is the only way to hold exclusive titleholder rights for a direct, contractual relationship with the companies you own.

The DRS is 100% backed by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Registering stock via the DRS is easy.

Protect your investments
by calling your financial advisor and visiting
WhyDRS.org

SEC bulletin
re: DRS - 7/12/23

WhyDRS.org is a not-for-profit educational resource about the financial markets in the United States, primarily focused on direct registration.

Keeping long term investments in your own name
- with the SEC approved & backed Direct Registration System - provides multiple benefits
and safeties available on no other platforms.

WhyDRS.org